Learning Opportunities

We offer support and mentoring to interested groups. We can develop tailored programmes according to time available, prior knowledge and desired outcomes of participants. All participants are welcome to become a NWŌ member.

We also offer regular 2-day courses open to the public. These are hosted by the Canterbury Workers' Educational Association (CWEA).

Snippets

We email a regular newsletter to our members. Treaty workers can also request it. Previous issues of Snippets are available on our website.

Networking

This involves local, regional and nationwide organisations in all three sectors – government, commercial, and the Third Sector. We enjoy a collegial relationship with Treaty education groups throughout the country. We maintain strong connections to the Human Rights Commission, and to Third Sector Organisations, particularly in Greater Christchurch with One Voice Te Reo Kotahi.

Future-oriented approach

We are committed to intergenerational equity in a values driven, hapū connected treaty-based multicultural future. In support of the restoration of Tino Rangatiratanga by tangata whenua, we take responsibility for building honourable Kāwanatanga where Māori succeed as Māori, Pacific peoples thrive, and relationships, lived experience and diversity guide our mahi – for us and our children after us.
